

Viewing Private/Personal Comments in a Discussion Forum

An instructor may leave a private/personal comment to your post/reply in a discussion forum.

1. Click the Discussion Forum
2. Click the Discussion topic.

Your personal/private comment from your instructor will display under your posting/reply.

The screenshot shows a discussion forum interface. At the top, there is a header for "Changes in Nursing" with a "View/Reply Options" link. Below this, the post title is "History of Nursing" and it is marked as an "Original Post" from Wednesday, 10/17/2012 at 8:19 AM. The post content reads: "I think today's nurses have a greater opportunity to learn skills that previously were never considered to be a part of what they do." The post was edited on Thursday, 11/8/2012 at 10:12 AM by Jade Hoelt. Below the post, there are "Edit" and "Delete" options. A red oval highlights the "Comments" section, which contains the text: "Instructor commented: Can you elaborate more on your findings?".

Student post/reply

Private Instructor comment

Instructor commented: Can you elaborate more on your findings?